D. To

Thank you for your letter of the 2nd April concerning Mr Gerald James. At the time of writing my other letter I was deeply concerned at the way some of those accused of dealing with Iraq were being treated. I still consider that some of the authorities concerned with investigating accusations against Mr James and his associates behaved extremely badly, but I am afraid I forwarded all the information I had on this matter to Sir Richard Scott and have no record of any previous correspondence.

With best wishes,
