

INTERNATIONAL PRESS RELEASE

THE JUSTICE FOR ASIL NADIR COMMITTEE (JANCOM) WEBSITE.

The new website, available at www.jancom.org demonstrates quite clearly that, whether Asil Nadir stole from his companies or not, he certainly did not get a fair trial.

THE BACKGROUND. Asil Nadir returned voluntarily from Turkish North Cyprus to the UK in 2010, but was convicted on 23 August 2012 for seven thefts supposedly committed between August 1987 and June 1989. He was sentenced to ten years imprisonment. Nadir has always claimed that the charges against him were rigged and that the SFO tried to frame him, abused its powers and doctored evidence, making any fair trial impossible. He is still held in Belmarsh maximum security prison

DOCUMENTS PROVE NADIR WAS FRAMED. The website shows that vital evidence was suppressed by the British government in both the Nadir trials, using ‘Public Interest Immunity Certificates’ (PIICs) to hide unwelcome facts from the defence.

SUPPRESSING THE TRUTH. The documents on the website show that the Prosecution rigged the first trial back in 1991, even fabricating claims that the trial judge had been bribed; and in the second trial in 2012, key documents were deliberately suppressed in court. Those documents – many of which are featured on the JANCOM website for the first time – are a damning indictment of the way that the British justice system operates behind the scenes to protect Whitehall and politicians through the misuse of Public Interest Immunity Certificates: over 30 in the Nadir case alone.

GUNS, LIES AND SPIES. The documents are highly embarrassing for the British government. They prove that Nadir was framed by British and American intelligence agencies in a government campaign of dirty tricks, lies, the jailing of innocent men, and even murder, to cover up the fact that UK and US governments had been secretly selling illegal arms to Saddam Hussein, using Asil Nadir’s companies among many others. Well-known politicians and senior businessmen made illicit fortunes from the sale of illegal arms with the Thatcher Cabinet’s full knowledge and approval.

CIA CONFIRMATION. The most damning document is a leaked secret internal CIA report from 1991. The report confirms that a network of illegal gun running companies was set up by Bill Casey, Head of the CIA. The CIA document itemises widespread official corruption and illegal UK and US government activity. When the story of corrupt arms sales leaked to the press, the companies were bankrupted or closed down to try and hide the truth. Along with Matrix Churchill and others, Asil Nadir, whose Polly Peck International business empire was deliberately ruined by the British government with the loss of £2 billion, was just one of the victims of the Arms to Iraq scandal.

MURDER AND MI6. The CIA report also confirms UK intelligence agents coordinated illegal activities and arranging murders, false arrests and imprisonment of innocent men on behalf of the British government. It identifies one Stephan Kock as an undercover SIS (‘MI6’) agent charged with manipulating the media and arranging arrests on trumped up charges. It also reveals evidence of the Thatcher Conservative government lying and covering up at the highest levels in Parliament.

POLICE SPIES CONFESS. According to the sworn testimony of two undercover police spies, they were blackmailed and ordered to frame the tycoon by London’s Serious Fraud Office, acting in collusion with the Metropolitan Police. Other suppressed documents reveal that MI5 agents were trying to frame and ruin Nadir. All are revealed – many for the first time – on the JANCOM website.

AN INDEPENDENT ENQUIRY? The documents suppressed by the Government clearly show that Asil Nadir did not receive a full and fair trial. Nadir’s trial was rigged. They also reveal a reckless disregard for the law and raise questions about the secret activities of Britain’s ‘deep state.’ The JANCOM website proves that only an independent enquiry or a free press can now get at the truth.
